

Grand Cayman July 12 - 19, 2008

UNDERSEAS SCUBA CENTER visits Sunset House the only resort in the Cayman Islands designed by divers, operated by divers, for divers.

Sunset House is also the only resort on Grand Cayman that has its own coral reef with modern and ancient shipwrecks in shallow water right off shore. Underwater visibility can reach over 200 feet, and there's a remarkable variety of marine life to be seen. It's little wonder that divers of all skill levels can be seen entering the water any time of the day, and almost every night.

Grand Cayman is just 480 miles south of Miami and right in the middle of the Caribbean. Sunset House is on the west side of the island where the Caribbean is almost always calm and only a 15 minute walk from Georgetown.

Sunset House's regularly scheduled two-tank trips hit Cayman's most popular dive sites on the West Coast, North Wall and South Sound. Also available are other special trips to exciting Stingray City, as well as night boat trips to the Wreck of the Balboa and other intriguing sites. Never fear, whichever way the wind blows they always find a lee side for calm, crystal-clear diving.

Sunset House has 59 guestrooms, including 16 deluxe ocean-view rooms. All rooms are air conditioned with phones and private baths. The on site Sea Harvest restaurant offers full menus. The boats come back in time for an outdoor lunch at My Bar. Sunset House also has an inviting freshwater swimming pool with whirlpool spa.

As you can see, everything you'll need for a great dive vacation is at Grand Caymans #1 hotel for divers by divers.
